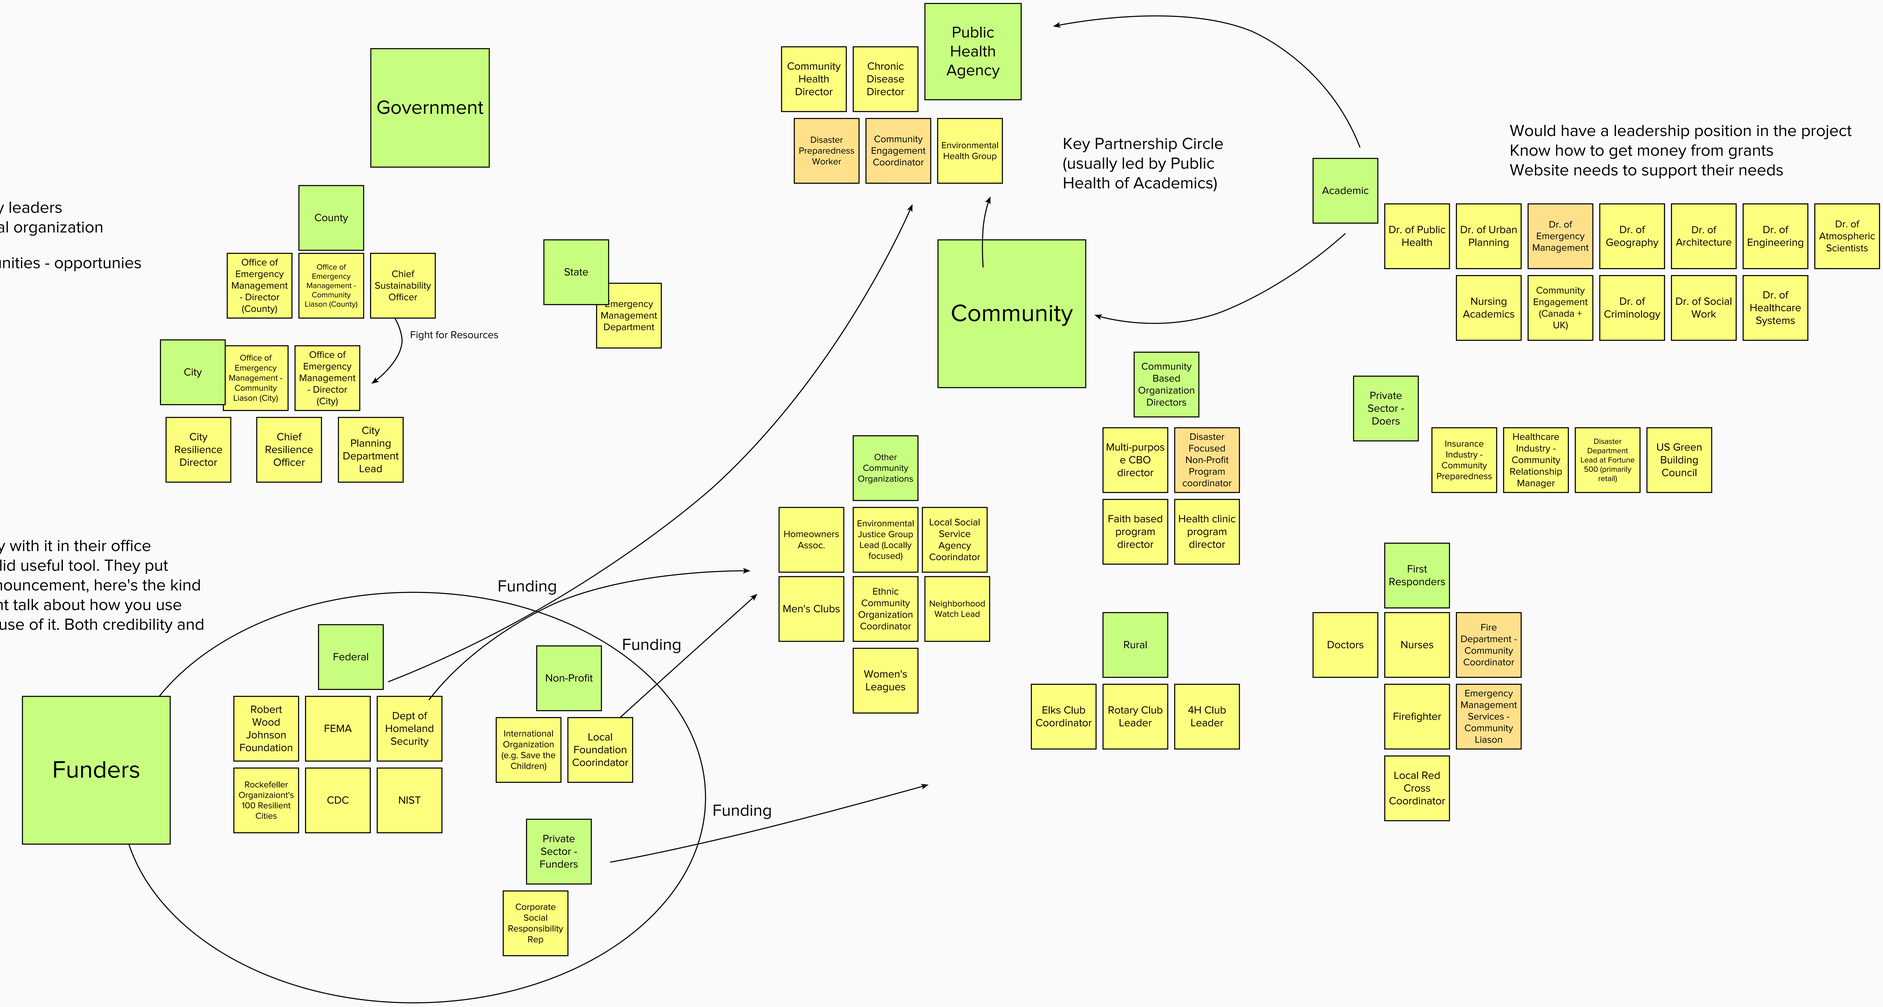
Note: in rural settings, some community leaders might lead these efforts without a formal organization

Want to expand into more rural communities - opportunies

See the website, play with it in their office and feel that it's a valid useful tool. They put it in their funding announcement, here's the kind of resource you might talk about how you use
Will help spread the use of it. Both credibility and distribution



Parking Lot

Break into a funding section of the website